

Hope After Harvey: The DALHR Program

WHAT IS DALHR?

The Direct Assistance for Limited Home Repair (DALHR) program may be available for Houstonians recovering from Hurricane Harvey. It provides repairs to homes with moderate damages so Houstonians who lack available resources can live in their homes again.

*Please contact the City of Houston at (832) 394-6100 to determine your eligibility.

- To be eligible, you must have already registered with FEMA, owned the home prior to Hurricane Harvey, undergone a FEMA-issued inspection, experienced a FEMA-verified loss of at least $17,000, and your damages do not reach 50% of pre-event tax assessed value.

- If you qualify, an approved inspector assigned by the City of Houston and a Housing and Community Development Department (HCDD) representative will visit your home to assess your repair needs.
- HCDD prepares report for FEMA.
- FEMA makes decision about repairs allowed and notifies HCDD.

- HCDD meets with homeowner to review proposed FEMA-approved repairs.
- Homeowner signs contract.
- HCDD representative works with homeowner to schedule repairs.
- Work must be completed within 90 days after contract is signed.

- If losses are greater than $60,000, you may still be eligible for program, but maximum grant is $60,000.
- Prior FEMA grants received and/or used do not disqualify you.
